Creative Play Therapy Techniques for Working with Clients Who Have Experienced Traumatic Events in School or Mental Health Settings

Presenter: Lecole J.Sander, MSW, LISW-CP

Lecole Sanders is a licensed independent social worker- clinical practice in her own private practice, Sanders Family Counseling, LLC in Florence, SC. Ms. Sanders works with a variety of children and family issues in her practice and frequently uses play therapy techniques in her work. Two areas of clinical interest for her are children on the Autism Spectrum, and children/ adolescents with concerns related to eating/ body image. She regularly works with children and their families who are experiencing difficulty related to these particular issues. Additionally, Ms. Sanders is a TF-CBT trained therapist, and works with children who have experienced a variety of traumatic events. She is currently working on becoming credentialed as an Registered Play Therapist and is a SC Association of Play Therapy Board Director.

Overview: This interactive workshop supports and inspires school counselors, mental health counselor, therapists, and clinical social workers to think creatively as they provide play therapy and/or counseling services for individuals who have experienced a traumatic event. Counselors working with individuals who have experienced trauma will explore play therapy techniques using children's board games, age appropriate books, many free resources and inexpensive materials. All of these play therapy techniques encourage and provide therapeutic benefits for those clients who have experienced traumatic events in this experiential theory based workshop.

Learning Objectives:

At the conclusion of this workshop participants will

1. Identify the benefits of using materials they have on hand, can make, or can get for little or no money in a creative way with clients who have experienced traumatic events.
2. Identify useful materials and ways to modify materials to help clients who have experienced trauma.
3. Explore play strategies, books, and games to enhance the therapeutic work with those individuals n who have experienced traumatizing events.
